

ROSE BROOKS

Breaking the cycle of domestic violence.

MEDIA ALERT June 4, 2018 For Immediate Release

---

CONTACT
Scott Mason
Director of Donor Stewardship and Marketing
Office: 816-605-7113
Scottm@RoseBrooks.org

PO Box 320599
Kansas City, MO 64132

Rose Brooks Center

Press Release

Rose Brooks Center Achieves National Accreditation

Kansas City, MO June 4, 2018:

Rose Brooks Center has achieved national accreditation through the New York-based Council on Accreditation (COA). Rose Brooks Center is the leader in groundbreaking domestic violence programming, prevention, and education. In addition to emergency shelter, programs include an on-site pet shelter, a co-located health clinic, and expansive community programming. It took Rose Brooks Center 15 months to achieve accreditation. Organizations pursue accreditation to demonstrate the implementation of best practice standards in the field of human services. COA evaluated all aspects of Rose Brooks Center's programs, services, management, and administration.

COA accreditation is an objective, independent, and reliable validation of an agency's performance. The COA accreditation process involves a detailed review and analysis of an organization's administration, management, and service delivery functions against international standards of best practice. The standards driving accreditation ensure that services are well-coordinated, culturally competent, evidence-based, outcomes-oriented, and provided by a skilled and supported workforce. COA accreditation demonstrates accountability in the management of resources, sets standardized best practice thresholds for service and administration, and increases organizational capacity and accountability by creating a framework for ongoing quality improvement.

To achieve COA accreditation, Rose Brooks Center first provided written evidence of compliance with the COA standards. Thereafter, a group of specially trained volunteer Peer Reviewers confirmed adherence to these standards during a series of on-site interviews with trustees, staff and clients.

Based on their findings, COA's volunteer-based Accreditation Commission voted that Rose Brooks Center had successfully met the criteria for accreditation.

An endorsement of COA and the value of its accreditation process is reflected in it being named by the US State Department as the sole national independent accrediting body under the Hague Convention on Intercountry Adoption to accredit intercountry adoption service providers. In addition, COA is the only national accreditor designated by the U.S. Department of Defense to develop accreditation standards and processes for human service programs provided to military personnel and their families.

Founded in 1977, COA is an independent, not-for-profit accreditor of the full continuum of community-based behavioral health care and social service organizations in the United States and Canada. Over 2,000 organizations — voluntary, public, and proprietary; local and statewide; large and small — have either successfully achieved COA accreditation or are currently engaged in the process. Presently, COA has a total of 47 service standards that are applicable to over 125 different types of programs. To learn more about COA, please visit www.COAnet.org.

Rose Brooks Center offers domestic violence services and programming in the Kansas City Metro area and beyond. Rose Brooks Center has been providing services to adults, children, and their pets since 1978. www.rosebrooks.org