ROSE BROOKS Continuum of Care

There is no single way to end the cycle of domestic violence, so Rose Brooks Center has taken a multi-faceted approach and created a continuum of care. This way, families like Susanna and her boys, Aidan and Russel, are wrapped in services as they leave behind a home full of fear and abuse and create a new life filled with hope and possibilities.

“We have an advocate at the police station who can help you.”

“Rose Brook Center is a safe place for the entire family, including pets.”

“I need help finding out more about the police report that was filed against my abuser.”

“We’re all having trouble dealing with all the sadness, confusion, and anger we feel.”

“My boys and I need a safe place to stay.”

“We’re welcome to join one of our group therapy sessions or you can see a therapist one on one.”

“My oldest has been getting into fights at school and I don’t know what to do.”

“It’s all been happening so he can join a peer support group.”

“I have a court date, but I don’t want to face my abuser alone.”

“We have an advocate who is co-located at the courthouse. She’d be happy to go with you.”

“My boys have been getting into fights at school and I don’t know what to do.”

“Rose Brooks Center has an advocate at the hospital. Would you like for him to meet you?”

“I need to go to the hospital for a follow up, but I’m scared.”

“Make this continuum of care part of your lasting legacy by including Rose Brooks Center in your Will or Estate Plan. Learn more at www.rosebrooks.planmygift.org/”
